Wilder's 'Our Town' Is First Drama Production Of Season

"Our Town," a play in three acts by Thornton Wilder, will take the spotlight as this year's first major production of the Ithaca College drama department, opening on Wed., Oct. 27 at 8:15 p.m., and closing on Oct. 30.

A Pulitzer Prize winner in 1938, "Our Town" has enjoyed season after season of success. The New York Times wrote, "One of the finest achievements of the current stage. Mr. Wilder has transmuted the simple events of a human life into universal reverie. He has given it a profound, strange, unworldly significance, brimming over with compassion. "Our Town" has escaped from the formal barrier of the modern theatre into the quintessence of acting, thought and speculation. A beautifully evocative play." Mr. Charles Randall has selected it because he believes "it has important things to say to the world at this time."

Bill Wheeler steps into the leading role as the Stage Manager. He is supported by a cast which includes Bob Belfance as Dr. Gibbs; Dick Tedeschi as Joe Crowell; Jack Kutz as Howie Newsome; Paula Kleinman as Mrs. Gibbs; Dorothy Kostenko as Mrs. Webb; Vernon Hinkle as George Gibbs; Phyllis Lefkowitz as Rebecca Webb; Ron McKenney as Wally Webb; Roddie Dobris as Emily Webb; Bill Alexander as Professor Willard; and Bruce Follmer as Mr. Webb.

The townspeople include Sue Lawrence, Jane Patch, Ronald Platt, Rose Dakianos, David Kiersman, Marlane Sharak, David Claydon, Cynthia Jessup, and William Frankle.

The play is highly effective in its absence of scenery. The audience is called upon to use its imagination throughout the play. The plot is concerned with the Webb and the Gibb families who are substantial folks who live in substantial homes in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire. Mr. Wilder first acquaints the audience with these two families at breakfast time and carries them through one entire day. The love affair between George Gibbs and Emily Webb occupies the main attention in the second act, and the act is culminated in their

Original Work Of Prof. Benson To Be Premiered In Florida

Elegiac Overture, a new composition by Warren Benson, assistant professor of music at Ithaca College, will receive its premiere on twin concerts, Oct. 18th and 19th, with the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra. The work was commissioned last year by the Florida orchestra's music director, James Christian Pfohl.

As a guest of the orchestra, Mr. Benson will fly to Jacksonville for the dress rehearsal and performances of his work.

While in Florida, he will also conduct a percussion instrument demonstration and clinic for Jacksonville music teachers and students, sponsored by the Symphony and the Jacksonville City Schools.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31st, A Delphic Serenade, another of Mr. Benson's orchestral works, will be performed by the Amherst Symphony Orchestra in Snyder, N. Y. This work was heard this summer over the NBC Symphony Hour and has recently been put under contract by Carl Fischer, Inc., New York.

Directories To Be Available Monday According To D.K.

Delta Kappa announced last week that the seventh annual edition of the Ithaca College Student Directory will be available by Oct. 18. Due to the concentrated efforts of editor-in-chief, Herb Dalton and his staff, the directory will be published much earlier this year and will be distributed when most needed.

Working with Herb were Roy Stoddard, Paul Miller, Matt Cadari and last year's pledges.

The directory will contain the local addresses and phone numbers of all students, class and department, and home address. Also included will be the addresses and phone numbers of the Faculty, Dorms, Fraternity Houses, and College Offices.

Kildow, of the University of Minnesota, and ACP director, will speak on "The Board of Publications as an Answer to Policy Problems."

Other prominent speakers from the world of journalism will include Professor John Tebbel, chairman of the department of journalism at New York University, who will speak on "The Place of Student Publications in The Educational Process." Veep Nixon Goes After College Clubs

Attempts To Get Young Republicans Active

Washington, D.C.—400 Young Republican Clubs on college campuses across the nation will be working toward the election of a Republican Congress in the next month, backed by the endorsement from Vice President, Richard Nixon.

John Begg, college chairman for the Young Republican National Federation, this week announced a three-way campaign plan for the college clubs.

Vice-Pres. Richard Nixon

He urged organization of a nationwide chain of campus political rallies on October 14, President Eisenhower's birthday, and a drive to get eligible students to register and secure absentee ballots for the Nov. 4 election.

In his message to college students, Vice President Nixon said: "The challenge of our time is to work wholeheartedly for, and to achieve, a peaceful world in which real freedom is available to all peoples. I sincerely hope that the young people of our country will put forth every effort to meet this challenge."

The Vice President said "the Young Republican movement offers an excellent opportunity for young people to keep well-informed on government affairs," and gives them a chance to "take an active part in the election of government officials and encourage them as well to exercise their voting privileges in supporting the political party of their choice."

The Young Republican National Federation regards the Oct. 14 rallies as a deserved tribute to President Eisenhower on his birthday, with the added results of a nationwide boost to G.O.P. candidates for the House and Senate.

Many college Young Republican clubs are reported sponsoring non-partisan voter information centers to acquaint students with state registration and absentee voting laws.

An estimated 50,000 students in the United States are eligible to vote but have not registered or obtained absentee ballots.

'Scampers' In 27th Season On Ithaca College Stage

NEED IDEAS FOR SCRIPTS NOW FOR 1955 PRODUCTION

Although Scampers started only as a "stunt night" back in the prosperous days of 1928, it has become a foremost tradition here at Ithaca College. Since the first rising of the curtain of Scampers in 1928, Oracle, the senior honorary society, sponsored these big successes.

From the time of its first inauguration, Scampers has generally been successful, until today, the show is entirely run by the students. Directing, writing, acting, designing and setting the stage, and even ushering are just part of the many activities that the students perform in order to make Scampers what it is today. Scampers is an interdepartmental show. All students, whether a freshman or a senior, work to make the show a big success.

Now we are getting ready for the 1955 show. The various committees are working hard to make this year's Scampers "better than ever." George Lamkins is the Chairman; Bill Wheeler is the Production Manager; Ed Mendus is head of Scene Design; "Pete" Polhemus is in charge of Costume Design; Bob Gerlach is the Conductor; and Lloyd Meeker is the Assistant Production Manager. The theme for this year's Scampers show is "Swank Hotel."

Rawski Addresses Utica Teachers

On Friday, Oct. 8, Dr. Conrad H. Rawski, Dean, School of Music, presented an address to the zone meeting of the Utica Teachers Assoc., in Utica, on "Education Through Art." The address was given at the Utica Free Academy where Mr. John Madden, a graduate of Ithaca College, is the orchestra director.

Dr. Rawski recently presented a similar address to the Erie County Music Teachers Assoc. at Lake Shore Central School, Angola, N. Y.

'Frosh Frolics' Date Set By W.C.C. Phy.Ed. Girls Defending Champs

Frosh Frolics, a series of skits presented by freshmen girls of the various departments, will be presented on Thursday, Nov. 4, in the Little Theater.

The activity is sponsored by the Women's Civic Committee, as a means of enabling the freshmen girls to get acquainted with one another through working together.

Jane Patch, W.C.C. president, will present the winning department skit with a silver cup, which they keep for one year. Tradition has been that if a department wins Frosh Frolics three years in succession they are permitted to keep the cup permanently. The Phys. Ed. department has won Frolics during the past two years. If they win this year they will have permanent possession of the cup.

In order to make this year's show a hit, it's up to You, the student body of Ithaca College. If you have an ideas or talents, come out with them. Right now there is a big demand for ideas and scripts. Let's all get together and make this year's show something the school will never forget.

Much of the success of Scampers since 1928 has been due to the students of Oracle. But a great deal of praise goes also to the persons who wrote a line or moved a prop or did anything in a Scampers production that made "stunt night" into a tradition—and that is the student body of Ithaca College.

Bombers To Meet Cortland Tomorrow

by Herb Burkhalter

Tomorrow afternoon Smokey Joe Hamilton will regroup his charges on the Cortland gridiron for a do or die stand against the Teachers. This will be the third trip to the post for the Bombers who have come away second best in their two previous outings. The Ithaca College football team will travel to Alfred to do battle with the Saxons next weekend.

Coach Hamilton and his fine crew of assistants have had the squad scrimmaging hard this week and tapered off yesterday and today polishing the rough edges of their pass defense and key offensive tactics.

The Red Dragons are a good ball club but not vastly improved over what they were last year when they steamrolled the Bombers 32-0. The Blue and Gold men, however, are a much improved team over the squad that represented Ithaca College colors last year. Don Diston, a freshman from Fulton, New York has taken over at the center slot very capably for the injured Jerry Kniffen. Ed Shirk and John DeKay

Newman Club Meeting Picnic Is Planned

The next meeting of the Newman Club is scheduled for Oct. 19 in room 22, at the annex. A discussion on "Intermarriage" will follow the business meeting.

H. S. T. Had Style

An amazing thing, the American mind. Amazing how it continues to cheer the underdog on, how it insists on seeing justice done, how it rationalizes a man's faults behind him if he but given an honest try at his work. Stranger yet is the way the American mind considers former Presidents.

When Harry S. Truman was President of the United States it was a rare day that he wasn't condemned, cursed, criticized, or called something terrible. He was blamed for just about everything bad that happened in the entire country. To hear JQP talk one would think that Truman was the arch-enemy of democracy and his daughter the nemesis of the arts.

This past summer, ex-President Harry S. Truman lay very close to death after a serious operation. JQP began to think about it and decided that old Harry wasn't such a bad egg after all. Thousands and thousands of letters and telegrams poured into the hospital, all saying to the effect, "Get well soon, Harry, we forgive you. 'N besides, we like your style." Even the Chicago Tribune, one of Truman's biggest election year enemies, broke down in an editorial and wished him well.

JQP hit it on the head when he said, "... we like your style." Harry Truman has all the qualities of a man that could endear himself to the hearts of a nation. He's a fighter—for the things he believes in and to protect his family. He's an underdog that won, that came through the hard way. And most of all, as the comin gyears unfold, and as Harry S. Truman begins to enjoy the prestige and respect accorded ex-Presidents, time will show that his years spent in the White House will amount to far, far less of a fiasco than will the years spent by D.D.E.

The Segregation Issue

Four months ago, the Supreme Court passed a decision against racial segregation in the southern schools. Except for a slight nurest among the southern whites, everything has been fine until recently. Then a 34 year-old Washington, D.C. man popped up to add his 2 cents to the mess forming an organization known as the "N.A.A.W.P." (The National Association for the Advancement of White People). This was followed by riots, strikes by students, and cross burnings by a modern version of the Ku Klux Klan. Parents picketed non-segregated schools and threatened to send their children to private schools as long as non-segregation existed.

What our southern neighbors have been doing is actually contrary to the Constitution of the United States and law of their own states. Their actions are a disgrace to the Country, and are just the things that the Communists could use in their progoganda against the U.S.

We here at Ithaca College are proud to say that we have no such feelings toward our classmates—be they white, black, yellow, Christian or Jew. We were all created by the same God and as citizens of the U.S. are entitled to certain rights and privileges. That's ALL of us, not any one race, creed or color. Remember the words of our Constitution—"All persons born or naturalized in the United States . . . are citizens of the United States and the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall baridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; Nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property . . . nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."—Amendment 14, section 1.

Senior Spotlight

by Sally Applegate

Bill Wheeler

"I am not a professor," said Dr. Wheeler, alias Big Steve, alias Bill Wheeler. This is an oft repeated cry, for many people confuse Bill with members of our faculty. Actually, Bill is a senior here at IC. He is most often seen cruising around in a rather ancient black vehicle which is fondly named Shasta. "Because Shasta have plenty of gas and oil."

Bill was born in Plattsburg, New York in 1928. His family moved to western New York in 1934 and finally settled down in Warsaw, New York, where they've lived ever since. Bill attended Warsaw High School where he was very active in drama. He was also in band and orchestra. Not many people know it, but Bill was once a drummer and played with dance bands. He still drums on table tops when he thinks no one's looking.

Bill attended Kalamazoo College in Kalamazoo, Michigan for one and a half years. During this time he appeared in The Star Wagon, The Showoff, and Dear Ruth. His education was continued in a somewhat different manner by the Air Force for four years. Three of these years were spent in Germany.

Bill and Shasta came to IC in 1952 as sophomores and enrolled in the speech department. Entering into the general spirit of things here, Bill appeared in The Scholar, Laburnum Grove, Hamlet, The Devil's Disciple, and the Readers Theatre production of Hippolytus.

Bill joined TAP in his junior year. He spent many a happy afternoon filling the coke machine in the practice room under the theatre. He was Dave McComber in Ah Wilderness, Duncan in Macbeth, Baptista in Taming of the Shrew, and Judge Bridge in Pattern in Clover. He gained immortality (or notoriety, as the case may be) as Big Steve Stauch in Scampers '54.

This year Bill is president of the senior class, vice president of TAP, production manager of Scampers '55, and a member of Student Council. He is playing the lead role of the stage manager in Our Town, the first play of the season.

After graduation, Bill plans to spend a year in New York City and then look for a job in radio or TV. Bill plans to build his own home someday, ranch style. During the summers, Bill works hard at various and sundry interesting jobs.

Gloria Haywood

One night, carried away by his part in Our Town, Bill Wheeler was giving directions to Gloria Haywood's house. "If you drive east on route 20A outa Warsaw fer a spell an' take the Mt. Morris Turnpike outa Leicester, you'll come to the best little town by a damsite, Mr. Morris." It is also the present home of Gloria Haywood, the heroine of this half of the column.

Gloria was born in Rochester, New York in 1933. (There was no hospital in Mt. Morris.) She has lived all her life in Mt. Morris. She was very active in music at Mt. Morris High School.

Gloria enrolled as a music education freshman at IC. She lived at Cayuga House "with a few other girls and a housemother." (Cayuga House was practically empty that year.) Gloria joined the WAA, and marched with IC's very first marching band. They had no uniforms so they marched in black slacks and white sweaters.

Cayuga House was closed during Gloria's sophomore year so she moved to Griffis Hall where she was "house president for a day." The reason for this rather brief term of office was the closing of Griffis Hall. Our happy wanderer moved to Hilliard House where she was treasurer and lived "on the third floor way off in a room that didn't have any heat." She joined SAI and Adelphi. She was on the Dean's List and in marching band. She worked with WITJ on the talent show that discovered Paul Hull, of Scampers fame. She sang in girls' glee club and was social chairman of the sophomore class. She was in the chorus of Scampers. "I walked on stage three times."

In her junior year, Gloria was in marching band and mixed chorus. She was social chairman of SAI and secretary-treasurer of WCC and the junior class. She lived at SAI in a very small room on the third floor in the top half of a double-decker bed. "It's the highest spot on the third floor." Gloria also embarked on the first of two glorious years of working in the Methods Office.

This year Gloria is keeping very busy as editor of professional pho-

New Faculty Added To Bolster Staffs

To keep pace with the annual increase in the enrollment of students each year at IC, at least seven new faculty members have been added to the staff.

Mr. Frank W. Kolmin, appointed assistant professor in accounting, is a graduate of the University School of Accounting in Vienna, Austria. He obtained his master's degree at the New York University and for five years was employed by the Eastman School of Business in New York City. In addition he has to his credit several years of accounting experience.

In the field of economics, Mr. Douglas Elson and Mr. Jack E. Gelfand hold the two new positions. Mr. Elson is a graduate of Sienna College and has his master's degree from Syracuse University. For four years he was an instructor of business at the University of Bridgeport. Mr. Gelfand has both his bachelor's and master's degree from Brooklyn College. With the exception of his thesis, he has completed all the work necessary for his Ph.D. at New York University. While at N.Y.U. he was an assistant in economics and from there he was an instructor at Lehigh University.

Those who take Biology Lab may have Mr. Edward J. Seeber as their instructor. Mr. Seeber obtained his bachelor's and master's degrees from Marshall College at Huntington, W. V. For the last two years he has been working on his doctor's degree at Cornell and is an assistant in Biology.

A graduate of Ithaca College in 1950, Miss Margaret Behringer has returned to teach speech. She took advanced work at Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where she earned her master's degree. For two years she also did speech correction work for the Board of Education in Rochester.

Teaching Make-up and Characterization is Robert George Howard, who has his bachelor's and master's degrees from Syracuse University. While at Syracuse he assisted in speech instruction and then transferred to Cortland State Teachers' College where he taught speech.

Teaching violin this year is Mr. Edward Troupin, who is a graduate of Harvard with a degree from Michigan. Mr. Troupin also is known as a professional violinist and orchestra conductor.

S.A.I. To Hold Open House

SAI is holding its annual house opening Friday, Oct. 22 from 8 to 12 p.m. The SAI house opening is held in conjunction with the Phi Mu house opening and refreshments will be served at both houses. Dancing and entertainment will be featured at Phi Mu and girls will have 12:30 permisissions.

dent advisor of WCC. She is president of SAI. She sings in choir. She is still working in the methods office. "I'm traditionally known as a methods major." Gloria is practice teaching in Geneva this year. She was a counselor at Frosh camp.

After graduation, Gloria plans to teach in a high school or junior high school and eventually in a college. Last year, Gloria did two things she'd always wanted to do. She went roller skating at Ide's Drome and ice skating at Beebe Lake. "When I went to Ide's Drome, Mary Burton broke her ankle. When I went to Beebe Lake, I broke my tooth." Gloria won't be around next Sunday. She's going home to a wedding, "Not my own, though."

'Third Herd' Has Full House At Cornell Concert

Woody Herman, the great man of Jazz, played at Bailey Hall last Saturday evening. Bringing with him his new music sensation the "Third Herd," he played to a capacity house. The Cornell Rhythm Club sponsored the concert.

Fifteen of the country's top instrumentalists appeared in the Herman Band. The members of the band were carefully assembled. They included such notables as: Cy Touff, bass, trumpet; Jack "The Admiral" Nimitz, baritone sax; Dick Collins, trumpet; "Porky" Pacion, trumpet; Nat Piercece, piano; Red Kelly, bass; and Chuck Flores, drums. The Herman Band has just completed a successful engagement at the Hollywood Palladium.

The "Third Herd" means the great sound that Herman as drawn together for the third time. His first two "herds" included such greats as Stan Getz and Chubby Jackson.

Every Ithaca College student has a passing familiarity with the school library. You've all been through it at one time or another. You've been introduced to the card catalogue and the shelves of reference books. Some books are interesting, others dull, but nevertheless, all available for everyone's conception. The general concensus of opinion is that the library on East Buffalo street is the only one at I.C. There is another library, however, over on Cayuga street that is generally overlooked. It is on the second floor of the Music Building under the very capable direction of Miss Potter, secretary to Dean Rawski. Instead of books as one would expect to find, this library contains phonograph records.

It is not a large library, but the music included in it is very representative of every period of musical history. Early plain chant of the Roman Catholic Church and the great music Bach wrote for the Lutheran Church, as well as the modern music of Stravinsky and Hindemith, are included in this collection.

The library is not restricted to music students as some might think but is available to every Ithaca College student. Records can be borrowed for a one week period. Should the record be kept longer there is a 10c fine for it's tardy return. Some records are placed on the reserved list when they are being used for class discussion or study. When a record is thus reserved it can be borrowed for a period lasting from school closing in the afternoon until the next morning at 9:00 A.M. when the record has to be returned.

Many of the great composers are well represented in this collection. For instance, the record library has all nine Symphonies of Beethoven, the four Symphonies of Brahms and a fine listing of the music of Bach. At every opportunity new records are purchased for the library. Some recent purchases include: the Complete String Quartets of Beethoven as played by the Pascal String Quartet (this set has not yet been catalogued) and the complete operas, Otello, by Verdi, and Tristan Und Isolde, by Wagner. The moderns such as Schoenberg, Ives, Vaughan Williams, Piston and Copland can also be found in the record library.

There is enjoyment to be found in listening to the music of the great composers. By playing the records many times a fuller and deeper understanding of music can be obtained. Repeated, hearings gives to the interested listener an opportunity to appreciate to the fullest what music has to say and do.

So-called "Classical Music" can and is enjoyed by people not initiated into its technical aspects. Many of you not in the music department who would like to hear good music have an excellent opportunity to do so by visiting the record library.

R. V. Williams Gives Cornell Lecture

by Larry Roy

Ralph Vaughan Williams, England's dean of Music, spoke recently in the Lecture rooms of Olin Hall on Cornell Campus. His talks dealt with the nature and history of music. The lectures were well attended with the audience averaging about five hundred at each one. Many genuinely interested people come to hear the lecture and were turned away for lack of room. Others came either out of curiosity or for social prestige.

Dr. Vaughan William's talks were simple in nature following a very clear logical pattern. His dry British wit was well appreciated by his listeners. Large in stature and still larger in mental capacity, his depth of character was felt throughout the lecture rooms.

Dr. Williams said that since his three lectures were so well received he would give a fourth sometime in November. If the increase in attendance is proportionate to the first group of lectures the concensus of opinion is that the fourth one could probably fill Bailey Hall or some other appropriately sized auditorium.

Kappa Gamma Psi Invites Men To Smoker

Iota Chapter of Kappa Gamma Psi will presents its annual smoker Monday, Oct. 18 at eight p.m. This smoker gives the new male students of the department of music the dual opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the members and the aims of the fraternity.

On Nov. 22, the fraternity is having its annual Open House. The entire school is cordially invited to this event. The Open House will be climaxed by refreshments and entertainment which includes a combo and dancing.

Kappa Gamma Psi is a national music fraternity founded at Ithaca College in 1929. One of the purposes of the Fraternity is to further music at the College. This year Kappa Gamma is presenting four formal recitals, the first of which will be November 10.

The Fraternity also sponsors an original composition recital at which the student composers of the college can hear their works performed. This year the original composition recital will be given in May.

Kappa Gamma house is located at 414 North Cayuga St.

Grad. Study Exams For Bus. Schools In Feb. 1955

Princeton, Oct. 8—The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, required for entrance by a number of graduate business schools or divisions throughout the country, will be offered twice during the coming year, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test. During 1954, many students took the test in partial satisfaction of admission requirements of graduate business schools which prescribed it. Among these institutions are the graduate business schools or divisions of the following universities:

Columbia University
Harvard University
Northwestern University
Rutgers University
Seton Hall University
Syracuse University
University of Chicago
University of Michigan
University of Pennsylvania
Washington University (St. Louis)

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each business school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business and when. Since many business schools select their entering classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to the 1955 classes are advised to offer the February test, if possible.

The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business is not designed to test specific knowledge in specialized academic subjects. Normal undergraduate training should provide sufficient general knowledge to answer the test questions. Sample questions and information (Con't. on page 7, col. 5)

I.C. Frosh Booters Battle Cornell To Tie

Sparked by the brilliant play of Coach Bigley's freshmen, IC's frosh booters fought the Cornell JV's to a 1-1 deadlock in an overtime contest Friday, October 1. Cornell's defense proved to be the deciding factor as they turned back the IC attack time and time again.

Throughout the first half the blue and gold outdrove the freshmen beating them to the ball constantly. IC's right wing drew first blood scoring unassisted after breaking through the Red defenders.

Cornell was able to retaliate in the second quarter, however, when they booted through the tying marker.

With the contest tied, Cornell came to life, playing the blue and gold on even terms for the remainder of the game. Play was concentrated at midfield, neither team able to put together a winning pass-and-shot combination.

Free College Press Is Aim Of Collegiate Eds. Meet in Wash.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Approval of a draft constitution and election of permanent officers are expected to highlight the first meeting of the National Association for a Free College Press in Washington, D.C., Oct. 21-22.

Held in conjunction with the annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press, the meeting will outline means of investigating alleged violations of campus press freedom and map plans for cooperation with professional groups interested in maintaining freedom of information. Approximately 300 college editors and staffers are expected to attend.

Organized by 24 college newspaper editors from all parts of the country, the Association plans to enlist a group of leading professional editors and publishers to serve as an advisory board and cooperate in investigating alleged breaches of editorial freedom in the college press.

According to Eugene L. Hartwig, interim chairman of the Association and managing editor of the Michigan Daily, action on an alleged violation of press freedom would begin when the editor of a campus paper involved notified the executive committee chairman of the Association.

The chairman, working with other members of the committee, would then appoint a team of college and professional editors to visit the campus, interview student editors, members of the administration and others involved, then prepare a report on their findings for distribution to members of the Association, wire services and trade publications.

Members of the executive committee will also work with other college newspaper editors in their area in a continuing review of the status of editorial freedom of the campus press.

Financial support for the Association will come from membership dues of college papers, grants from professional newspaper groups and foundations, and from individual editors and publishers interested in preserving freedom of information.

Following is a list of the interim executive committee of the Association:

Interim Chairman, Eugene L. Hartwig, managing editor, Michigan Daily, University of Michigan; Interim Treasurer, Sam Perelson, editor-in-chief, The Ticker, City College of New York; Louis Kraar, associated editor, Daily Tar Heel, University of North Carolina;

Barbara Skeeter, editor-in-chief, The Hampton Script, Hampton (Va.) Institute;

Gridders Working On Defense For Cortland Tilt

The Ithaca College Bombers were hard at work starting last Monday in preparation for their annual gridiron contest with the Red Dragons of Cortland. The teams will do battle on the Teachers home grounds tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Coach Joe Hamilton is still looking for the reason for the complete collapse of the team after holding Wilkes College to minus yardage on the ground and only two yards gained through the air during the first half of last Saturday's game. After playing better ball during the first two quarters than any team he has ever coached, Hamilton was at a loss for an explanation of the team's sudden reverse of form. IC held an 8-0 lead at halftime.

Hard scrimmaging has been featured by the IC mentor all week. Hamilton has also stressed pass defense in hopes of keeping young John Acaro, Cortland passing star from being too effective. The little quarterback has heaved five TD passes out of a total of seven scored by the Red Dragons in losing two of three games so far this season.

Coach Hamilton said his squad should be at its top physical peak for the Cortland game, with the exception of Don Dudek, sub quarterback, who is sidelined with a minor injury.

Cortland to date has tripped a good University of Buffalo team 20-6 and bowed before the perennially strong Bloomsburg State Teachers of Pennsylvania and Alfred University 32-12.

College Drops Football Opener
To Strong E. Stroudsburg Team

The Ithaca College Bombers were defeated in their first football game of the season at Percy Field Saturday by a heavy and powerful East Stroudsburg eleven, 25-13. The Ithacans opened the scoring in the contest at the close of the first quarter.

A John Filor screen pass to Al Weiner carried to the 10-yard line. Billy Lee advanced the ball to the six, then Fullback Lannie Dworsky was called into play to go through center for the first down on the visitors four. On the next play Lee carried the ball to within an inch of the goal. Then Dworsky, who spent the entire afternoon, playing an exceptional brand of football, carried the ball into the end zone for the Ithaca score. Filor's kick for the extra point was blocked by the center of the Stroudsburg line.

Stroudsburg received the Ithaca kickoff and was stymied at this point by the hard charging Bomber line and was forced to punt from their own 30-yard line. Ithaca ran the kick from its 5-yard line to the 30, but on the next play, Dan Dudek, fumbled the hand-off from center and Lewis Judy, Stroudsburg end, recovered it on the 29-yard line and placed the Pennsylvanians in definite scoring position.

Stroudsburg advanced to the Ithaca 10 on a series of ground plays, then Warren Hoeffner, Stroudsburg quarterback, ran the ball through the Ithacans into the end zone for the tally. The boot for the extra point was blocked by Ithaca left guard, Don Diston, and the score was tied at 6-6.

Stroudsburg recovered an Ithaca fumble on the Ithaca 6 yard line. Halfback Charles Shaw tossed what could have a touchdown pass, but it was intercepted by Dudek who carried it back to the 25. On the very next play, the visitors evened it up with Dudek by intercepting his pass and running it over for the touchdown. The try for the extra point was good and Stroudsburg pulled ahead 13-6, to complete the first half action.

Just as the Ithaca College marching band was readying to march onto the field for the half-time show, the skies opened up and the rain poured down, drenching the spectators and turning spots on the gridiron to mudholes.

As the second half started, Ithaca was leading Stroudsburg in the first down department, 7 to 4, but found it difficult to get settled down to playing steady football.

Filor completed three brilliant passes on a drive, one for 20 yards to Stohrer, one for 15 yards to Dworsky which went to the Stroudsburg 13, and one to Lee which scored a TD from the 13. Filor made the conversion, to tie the score at 13-13, just as the third quarter ended.

During the final quarter the Stroudsburg team started to perk up after a slow second half start. It marched down the field, cutting the Ithaca line to ribbons.

Booters 6-2 Over
Buffalo State

Doe Yavits' Ithaca College soccer team defeated Buffalo State, 6-2, Wednesday, Oct. 6, at Titus Flats for its third win compared to one loss.

At the same time at Cortland the Ithaca Jayvees lost to the Cortland Jayvee team, 2-0.

John Williams kicked three goals and Mel Feldman, Jim Zonneville and Reither one apiece for the Bombers. Feldman also assisted on Williams' first goal. Ithaca had a 6-0 lead before Buffalo State got its first goal in 15:10 of the third period.

Gibson played a fine game in the goal for the Ithaca Jayvees.

John Gibbons scored on a beautiful run from the Ithaca 19. John Andrews attempted the kick for the extra point but it was wide.

The Ithacans started another drive down the field, but it was terminated when Gibbons intercepted a Filor pass on the Ithaca 35, then as he was about to get smeared, lateraled off to James Oplinger who carried it to the 30. Richard Merring, left halfback, broke away on a beautiful run to the Ithaca 8. A penalty against Ithaca set the ball on the 3, and from there Merring carried it over for the fourth TD. The try for the extra point failed.

Frosh Gridders Lose, 32-0, To Cortland

The Ithaca College frosh football team journeyed to Cortland last Saturday for its season opener with the Teachers, and came back home on the short end of a 32-0 score. Frosh coach Carlton (Carp) Wood said that he really didn't expect too much of his inexperienced youngsters, and expressed satisfaction that they held the stronger Cortland aggregation as well as they did.

The IC line just didn't have a chance when the CSTC eleven got up a head of steam and decided to roll. Cortland scored at least one TD in every quarter, two in the third quarter, as they substituted freely and had practically a fresh team in at all times.

Ithaca quarterbacks Pete Looney and Ray McFarland, alternating at the signal calling position, did a remarkable job in holding the team together, and Ray Waldron, full-back, did some fine line backing work, making good tackles and blocks all afternoon. A total of 27 frosh made the trip and, according to Wood, all who played did their best. The Ithacans were just out-classed.

Cortland repays the Ithaca visit when they tour here today to complete the home-and-home series at Percy Field in a 2:30 p.m. contest.

The score by periods:

Light Appointed Rules Ruler

Ben Light, graduate manager of athletics at Ithaca College, has been appointed basketball interpreter of Section 4, Athletic Council, New York Public High Schools Athletic Association.

The appointment was made by Andrew Smith, Section 4 chairman, and principal of Union Springs Central School.

The section includes the following leagues: Cortland County, Southern Tier, Southern Counties, Tri-County, and Tioga County.

Light, who is national president of the Collegiate Basketball Officials Association, said he would conduct a rules interpretation clinic for the Section 4 schools later in the year.

The ITHACAN Classified Section is being omitted from this issue due to lack of space.

"So long, Mr. Baxter—I'm all set to go on my vacation tomorrow."

The Ithaca College Bombers main weakness, pass defense, enabled E. Stroudsburg to complete this TD pass (above), in the season's opener at Percy Field, which IC lost, 25-13. The Ithaca line (right), failed to hold back the powerful Stroudsburg eleven, letting them through for long gains time after time.

College Football Is Nuisance At Chicago Univ.

New York—Robert M. Hutchins, under whose presidency the University of Chicago abandoned football in 1939, has written an article in a recent issue of a national sports magazine called College Football is an Infernal Nuisance, protesting that we Americans are the only people in human history who ever got sport mixed up with higher education.

Hutchins is now president of the Fund for the Republic, but in the face of a recent move to try to reinstate football at Chicago, he states his violent aversion to the distractions and immorality of the sport on the collegiate level.

According to Hutchins, Chicago dropped football because the game hampered the university's efforts to become the kind of institution it aspired to be, one devoted to education, research, and scholarship. "Intercollegiate football," he says, "has little to do with any of these things and an institution that is to do well in them will have to concentrate upon them and rid itself of irrelevancies, no matter how attractive or profitable."

Accepting sport in its proper place is attractive and valuable, he adds. "No other country looks to its universities as a prime source of athletic entertainment . . . and anybody who has watched, as I have, 12 university presidents spend half a day solemnly discussing the Rose Bowl agreement, or anybody who has read—as who has not?—portentous discussions of the "decline" of Harvard, Yale, Stanford, or Chicago because of the recurring defeats of its football teams must realize that we in America are in a different world."

He doubts that it is a better world, saying, "I believe that one of the reasons why we attach such importance to the results of football games is that we have no clear idea of what a college or university is. We can't understand these institutions, even if we have graduated from one; but we can grasp the figures on the scoreboard."

Decrying the fact that football has become a symbol of college life, even the spiritual core of the modern campus, Hutchins quotes the late Jeff Cravath: "Nearly all colleges still playing big-time schedules have been forced into the open market to obtain their raw material. They must bid for the best players—and make concessions to keep them. The fact that the system reduces the boys to per-jurors, scalpers and football gigolos is ignored."

He points out that a college president must know the corrupt practices that are being used to build his football squad, but if he tries to stop them he runs afoul of prominent alumni on the board of trustees or board of regents, or alumni with endowment-available money. The president needs that money to keep his school going.

Hutchins' hope for a solution to the university's dilemma lies in the slow but steady progress of professional football, in the time when people will not pay to see collegiate ball.

"When professional football," he says, "has reached this point, we shall be able to disentangle sport and higher education. Students can play (or not play) as they wish; their friends may attend and applaud if they like. It will be clear that this is relaxation from higher education, not the main purpose of it. Students will come to college to study. Alumni will believe that this is something a normal, red-blooded, young American can properly do. Donors will understand that they are asked to support the institution, not because it has succeeded in attracting a few boys who are huskier and faster than those representing another college, but because when they give it, their money will be well spent in improving education and advancing knowledge. The colleges and universities will be set free to be as good as they know how to be.

"This," he concludes, "happened at Chicago."

I.C. Blows 8-0 Halftime Lead To Lose 28-8 To Wilkes College

Behind 8-0 at intermission, Wilkes College exploded for three touchdowns in the third period and went on to a 28-8 triumph over Ithaca College for its second straight win last Saturday at the High School Field at Kingston, Pa.

Ithaca opened fast after taking the kickoff, traveling 61 yards to reach paydirt and the score came on a pass from Quarterback John Filor to Halfback Bill Lee, a play that covered 19 yards.

Ithaca picked up two more points on a safety in the second period when the line pinned Al Nicholas in the end zone as he tried to make a pass.

The tide of battle changed abruptly in the third quarter with Wilkes going all the way after taking the kickoff. A 29-yard romp by Freshman Ronnie Rescigno set up the score and Nicholas made it on a short plunge.

Ithaca got a bad pass from center following the next kickoff and Wilkes recovered on the Ithaca 14. A pass from Nicholas to End Paul Gronka brought what turned out to be the winning points.

Ithaca fumbled on its 35 the next time it gained possession and Guard Tony Greener recovered for Wilkes. Rescigno capped the long drive with a short buck for the touchdown.

Wilkes moved 62 yards for a score in the fourth period, and Breznay scooted 12 yards for the points.

Howard Gross booted all placements after touchdowns for Wilkes extra points.

Hamilton Amazed

Coach Joe Hamilton expressed amazement at the way the Bombers rolled up yardage in the first half of the game, then so completely fell apart in the second half. "During the first half," Hamilton said, "we played a brand of football that has been virtually unknown at IC. We moved at will against their line, and, in spite of heavy penalties, still managed to command an 8-0 halftime lead."

The Ithaca team was so powerful during the first half that the halftime statistics showed Wilkes to have a minus yardage record.

Coach Hamilton liked the performance of converted guard Don Diston at the center spot, and he will probably stay on as injured Gerald Kniffen's replacement. The only other players that the IC coach had a word of praise for were fleet halfback Billy Lee and Lou Molisanni, two boys who ran hard all afternoon and played great games, although they had no team behind them during the second half.

"The penalties hurt us a lot," said Hamilton, "especially when we were right near their goal line. At least twice a penalty meant the difference between a score and a punt."

Wilkes scored twice within 4 minutes of the start of the second half, both on long TD passes. On both of these passes it appeared that Clint Miller was in a good position to defend, but he failed

Soccer Team Over Hamilton, 2-1 In Rain

The Ithaca College soccer team defeated Hamilton, 2-1, Saturday, Oct. 9, at Titus Flats field.

John Williams booted both Bomber goals, on a penalty kick at 21:42 of the first period and on another at 19:42 of the second. Urfer scored for Hamilton at 11:30 of the first.

Rain slowed second half play. Small played a great game in the goal for Hamilton.

both times and the passes were good.

"John DeKay and Ed Shirk," said Hamilton, "were the only football players in the crowd Saturday. Both played 60-minute ball and were fighting every minute of it."

The scoring:

Wilkes College	0	0	21	7-28
Ithaca College	6	2	0	0-8

Ithaca touchdown—Lee; safety, Nicholas, (smothered in end zone).

Wilkes touchdowns — Nicholas, Gronka, Rescigno, Breznay. Points after touchdowns—Gross 4 (placements).

Cortland Tomorrow . . .

have been performing outstanding jobs at their positions of left guard and right tackle respectively. Ed Stoher and Stan Wiener have been turning in a fine dependable brand of line play.

With Don Dudek on the injured list, Hamilton hinted that young Bill Freeman might see action for the first time in IC spangles, as a replacement for John Filor at quarterback. Freeman has all the attributes of a fine quarterback. He has a fine arm and works with his brain.

Cortland will run out of a split T formation, just about a carbon copy of the attack engineered by IC. The Bombers have not been stopped on the ground so far this year. They have chewed up large portions of ground time after time only to lose the ball on a fumble or to have their attack stall because of costly penalties.

With young Bill Lee showing signs of brilliance at his left half back spot and Len Dworsky performing in dependable fashion at fullback, Joe Hamilton could bring home the bacon on this trip to Cortland.

Besides the overland attack, quite unnoticed by many is the sharp aerial offensive launched by the Bombers in the last two contests. John Filor has flipped most of the passes, completing about 18 of 35 over the two game span.
